SIoux FALLS, SD, OCTOBER 18, 2006 - Award winning designs by South Dakota architects will be recognized at the American Institute of Architects (AIA) South Dakota convention this week. Koch Hazard will receive three of the five awards to be presented; an Honor Award for the Family Wellness Center and Merit Awards for Courthouse Square and The Lodge at Prairie Creek.

AIA South Dakota design awards recognize outstanding building projects recently completed within the region. The awards program will be held on October 20, concluding the AIA South Dakota annual convention. There were 11 projects submitted this year for award consideration.

Where
Sioux Falls, SD

"Koch Hazard Architects strives to design buildings that best meet the unique needs of each client. It is a bonus to have the successes of these buildings recognized in this way by a jury of peers," said Jeff Hazard, senior principal of the firm.

When
October 20, 2006

The projects were juried by Tim Carl, AIA. Mr. Carl is an architect with HGA Architects of Minneapolis, whose work has helped to win numerous state and national awards.
